

ENCP – ENGINEERING, COMPUTER

ENCP 100

Computer Programming for Engineers

3.8 Credits Weekly (3-3-0)

This course covers the fundamentals of computer programming with emphasis on solving engineering problems. Topics include: programming language syntax data types, statements, arrays, control structures, loops, functions, data structures, and files. Note: This course is restricted to Engineering students.