Academic Standing

MacEwan University is committed to academic success and provides a variety of services to help students achieve their goals. As part of this commitment, the university establishes the standards by which academic success is measured. These criteria are outlined in the university's Academic Standing policy, which can be found here (https://www.macewan.ca/c/policies/academic_standing.pdf).

An Academic Standing Year is a 12-month period between May 1–April 30 which defines the regular evaluation period for an Academic Standing review. The results of the Academic Standing review enable the university to recognize academic achievement and address unsatisfactory performance. Students are responsible for monitoring their own progress and for seeking assistance.

Satisfactory academic standing statuses include:

- Dean's List
- First Class Standing
- Good Standing

Unsatisfactory academic standing statuses include:

- Academic Probation
- Required to Withdraw

Unsatisfactory Academic Performance

Students who are placed on Academic Probation or Required to Withdraw are informed by the Office of the University Registrar.

Other considerations include:

1. A student with a record of excessive withdrawal grades, as determined by the Faculty or School, may be subject to review as per the Academic Standing policy.
2. A student's performance in a clinical, field placement, ensemble setting or equivalent learning activity may be reviewed at any time. This review may result in a student being placed on Academic Probation or Required to Withdraw if their performance is deemed inadequate relative to the standards required.
3. A student's performance may be subject to an administrative review as outlined in the Academic Standing policy.

More information, including conditions of unsatisfactory Academic Standing and options to appeal, is outlined in the Academic Standing policy.
